Congratulations! You have gotten all of your website design training completed! Next up....BLOGGING BOOTCAMP!

It will only be 7 days starting 9/1. I will post in the group when the workbook is ready for download. Included in the workbook will be my personal outline template, my checklist, places to get affiliate links, a glossary, and I will include an exercise on content planning and keyword research. There is a post publishing checklist. Places you have to promote your blog post, and places to sign up for affiliate links when just starting out and how to use them.

So get your website training wrapped up and get ready to dig into the next piece of the puzzle.
